

A Random Act of Woolly Kindness

On December 3, 2016, at 1:30 pm, the members of Chase the Chill Lynn, MA will be in Lynn on the corners of Liberty and Willow Streets performing their annual Scarf Bombing.

Scarves, hats, mittens and gloves will be tied to the trees and poles with tags that read, "I'm not lost! I've been left here on purpose. If you are cold, please take me."

Please share this information so that those in need can find free warm winter items.
